About Us

We are a growth funding and venture building platform that exists to drive transformative growth in middle market economies across Africa. Born out of a passion to invest in high impact start-ups and mentor enterprising underserved and underestimated founders, we aim to provide seamless access to all professional, technical and financial needs of entrepreneurs.

We stay focused on our 2 vital pillars of Business Creation and Female Empowerment.

Business Creation

We understand how messy a startup can be at first, but your ultimate vision is what we invest in. We go beyond the institutional capital you require and provide you with access to a network of founders, investors, industry experts, corporate organizations, and the technical blueprint for you to steer through the hurdles and build the business of your dream.

We're not here for the short-term or plan for exits. We invest in the bigger picture as building an iconic business together takes time and helping you create it is what we are here for.

Female Empowerment

From the outset, we aim to inspire change and reduce gender inequality by showing the world female founders tackling systematic problems and creating long lasting disruptive solutions. We want to build a start-up ecosystem with remarkable support to female entrepreneurs by providing access to a collective expertise of Maleeka's institutional network and also to tools and opportunities that enable them to rebuild their dreams around their entrepreneurial ambitions and genius.

Core Values

Sustainability:

Sustainability is most certainly a non-negotiable for business success! We set out with our strong belief of making our efforts dedicated to supporting startup founders, so they sustain in times of clear sailing and navigate the technical or financial hurdles they face when encountering “rough waters.”

Impact:

We accelerate and invest in your genius: Your ability to create “need-to-have” products that solve a piercing human problem! We collaborate with you to identify the white spaces and build the most impactful product to positively disrupt sectors. We make smart choices in pursuit of significant impact to all our stakeholders including founders, investors, employees, and even vendors, because we value that Impact is always to be made, not found.

Innovation:

For us, an innovative future means female founders equally participating in creating scalable long-lasting solutions to systematic problems across the globe. We truly believe that the next great business will not look like the last.

Collaboration:

We surely know how it feels to be on the other side. That is why we listen more than we talk and always stay responsive to founders we support. Valuing each other's opinions and working in collaboration sits at our core as we build as one amicable unit while forging deep connections and delivering on our common goals.
